Deconstructing the man, constructing the saint: the literary sanctification of germanus of Auxerre in the vita germani auctore constantio. The narrative structure of the Vita Germani Auctore Constantio is based on its protagonist's spiritual development from man to saint. In the early chapters, Germanus' character is defined by human actions and attitudes, as shown in the moments preceding his epiphany when he fights against election to the see of Auxerre.
