A variable is a letter used to stand for a number. The letters x, y, z, a, b, c, m, and n are probably the most commonly used variables. The letters e and i have special values in algebra and are usually not used as variables. The letter o is usually not used because it can be mistaken for 0 (zero).

My students are usually able to answer the questions fairly quickly. We discuss which variables are independent and which are dependent. In this unit, I don't use the word 'intercept,' but students are starting to internalize what the y-intercept in an equation represents, and how it impacts the graph and values of an equation.
